

PRIVACY POLICY

Along with providing users with safe and secure ways to conduct online transactions, Veever is fully committed to protecting its users' privacy and personal information. Veever's privacy policy applies to services provided by us at our web site, located at Veever.co

ABOUT MINORS

Our services are not directed towards children nor do we encourage minors (persons below the ages of 18) to use our services. Minors are not eligible to use our services and should not submit any personal information to us.

USER INFORMATION GATHERING

Veever only requires its members to submit information necessary to use the services offered through our web site or our partners' web sites. This information includes your name, e-mail address, address, phone number and payment information (which may include credit card, contact, and banking information).

From time to time, members of Veever.co will be given the option to participate in online surveys. Participation is strictly optional. The information gathered from our surveys will only be used to enhance our members' experience, and to help us identify services and needs which may be valuable to our members in the future.

Furthermore, members of Veever.co may also be given an opportunity to participate in contests and promotions, which may also require information from our users. The information provided will only be used to notify winners and conduct the promotion. Participation in these contests and promotions is always at your option.

Use and Disclosure of Personal Information

- Use of your information:

We use personal information from our users solely to provide and enhance our services. For example, we use personal information to verify the identities of buyers, sellers; process the transaction, verify receipt of payment, and disburse escrowed cash effectively. These uses include, but are not limited to, sharing your information with other companies (such as our payment gateway affiliates and delivery partners) and exchanging your information with the other party to your transaction. We may also request information about you from third parties to provide our services. We also use personal information internally to improve our services.

- Restriction on Disclosure of Your Information by Us:

We will not sell, publish, disclose, or rent to third parties individually identifiable user information collected at our web site, through our servers or otherwise obtained by us, other than to provide our services and as set forth in this privacy policy. From time to time, however, we may collect and/or disclose, transfer or share aggregated demographic or usage information obtained by us.

- Disclosure of Information to protect our Rights and Comply with Applicable Law:

We cooperate fully with all law enforcement inquiries and with third parties to enforce their intellectual property and other rights. We also comply fully with all applicable laws; including all applicable laws related with providing escrow services. We may disclose, in our reasonable judgment, user information as required to fully comply with all such actions and laws while conducting our business. We may also disclose your information and communications to protect our rights or prevent liability to us. In such event, your private communications and personally identifiable information may be disclosed in ways not otherwise described in this privacy policy.

- Passwords and Our Confidential Information:

We require that you do not disclose or share your password or other identifying information we provide to you with anyone else. Such passwords and information are our property and we may revoke your use at our discretion. You are also prohibited from using any password other than ones we authorize you to use.

TRANSACTION INFORMATION (USE & DISCLOSURE)

The terms and conditions of any transaction facilitated by Veever.co shall be considered confidential information and, as between the parties to a transaction and Veever.co, Veever.co will not disclose the terms to outside parties without the written consent of all the parties to any transaction.

OUR USE OF COOKIES

Cookies are data stored by your browser on your computer. For example, if you choose the option of saving your username when you Sign In, a cookie is used to store this information. Cookies are required to track your session when you are working with a transaction.

ABOUT SECURITY

With the understanding that perfect security does not exist on the Internet, we employ industry standard technologies to protect our users' information, including firewalls and secure socket layers. We also have appropriate off-line security measures in place in our physical facilities to protect the privacy of your personal information. However, we are not responsible for the disclosure of your information by our partners or by other companies not under our control.

CHANGES TO USER ACCOUNT

Veever.co gives you the ability to change or edit your personal information contained in your profile. Additionally, Veever gives you the opportunity to deactivate your account if need be. Contact us by filling out the customer support form and request the deactivation of your account. If you have active transactions open, your account will be deactivated after your transactions have been resolved.

We reserve the right to retain information after you have deactivated your account or information that you have requested to be removed to comply with applicable law, resolve disputes, and enforce our rights.

REVISION OF PRIVACY POLICY

We reserve the right to amend this privacy policy from time to time without notice to you. If at any time we decide to substantially change the way we collect or use personally identifiable information, we will inform our members by posting a prominent announcement on our home page. However, your personal information will always be used in accordance with the privacy policy in effect at the time the information was collected.

YOUR INPUT

If you have any comments or opinions you'd like to share with us regarding our privacy policy, please send them via our feedback form.
